

ARCTIC CHEWS

wild icelandic fish treats for dogs

Inspired by Iceland

Born from the pristine, icy waters surrounding Iceland, our new Icelandic fish treats begin in one of the cleanest and most carefully protected marine environments in the world. These cold, nutrient-rich seas naturally produce strong, healthy fish, allowing us to source ingredients that are exceptionally pure and flavorful without the need for unnecessary additives.

Crafted where cold seas create the purest fish, each treat is made with a deep respect for tradition, sustainability and quality. The slow-growing fish found in Iceland's waters develop firm texture and rich natural taste, resulting in a simple, wholesome treat pets instinctively love. We focus on minimal processing to preserve the fish's natural goodness—from protein and omega oils to its clean, ocean-fresh aroma.

Above all, our Icelandic fish treats represent a true connection to nature you can trust. From responsible fishing practices to transparent sourcing and careful production, every step is designed to deliver a treat that reflects the purity of its origin. It's nature, untouched and honest—bringing the best of Iceland straight to your pet.

Sustainably Caught

Responsibly sourced from trusted Icelandic fisheries, our fish treats are made with wild-caught fish that can be fully traced from ocean to finished product. We work with partners who follow strict fishing standards, ensuring each catch supports healthy fish populations and long-term sustainability. By respecting ocean ecosystems and prioritizing responsible harvesting practices, we're able to deliver treats that are not only pure and high-quality, but also aligned with our commitment to protecting the seas that make them possible.

Pure. Simple.
Nutritious.

Our treats are made from a single, high-quality fish ingredient—nothing more and nothing less—so pets get pure nutrition in every bite. We never add fillers, additives or artificial preservatives, allowing the natural integrity of the fish to shine through. Naturally rich in protein and omega fatty acids, these treats help support muscle health, skin and a shiny coat, making them a simple, wholesome reward you can feel confident giving every day.
